Key reasons why consumers don't collect what is needed from an insurance claim

There is nothing more frustrating than knowing that insurance was available to cover a devastating loss but you just don't have it. Whether it's learning that you can't afford to rebuild your home, regretting not buying life insurance for a loved one, or realizing that you should have accepted the catastrophic coverage (like earthquake, windstorm, or flood) that you now need...uninsured loss can be heartbreaking.

The #1 insurance lesson we learned from the California firestorms is that a well-written insurance policy with ample policy limits is "gold" in a catastrophic loss. Great insurance puts the policyholder first in line when it comes to securing an architect, contractor, and even a place to live.

Since October 9, 2017, we have been collecting insurance lessons we've learned living through the firestorm and its aftermath.

Today, we'd like to share our findings with you. You'll want this information in advance of your next personal insurance review.
